

I Can't Help Myself

Why'd you tell me turn the lights down, hun?
You know my weaknesses and you're number one
How could you tell me I should leave it be, it was always you and me
Yeah, you catch me coming back for more
I can't help myself, coming to your door
It don't matter that you broke my heart, I knew you'd do it from the start

Tell me to go, I know it's just your way to take control but
We were so close, it's okay to be a bit exposed
I'm here for you, it don't matter what I know you'll do
I cannot help, I can't help myself with you

It was just a game with loaded die
Cause the things you take beat the things you buy
It don't matter, don't got much to lose, you were always my excuse

Come on tell me lock the front door too
I thought I was enough, it never is with you
It don't matter, I can't help myself, it is you and never no one else

Tell me to go, I know it's just your way to take control but
We were so close, it's okay to be a bit exposed
I'm here for you, it don't matter what I know you'll do
I cannot help, I can't help myself with you
