

Sleep Like You Mean It

Can't blink, feels like I'm suffocating, we both know you keep me crazy
Hate when you face the other way, want me to make you play?
Your stare jet black, you try, you try and take back
Those words you said, next time, lie to me

I know what's in your room, and I'm not trying to hide
Cause I get what I want, by straightening out your lines
What do you know bout me, I'll crawl into your bed
And whisper in your ear, I'll get inside you head

Sleep

Do you no more, I'm doing me, one last chance to make me bleed
It's good to hurt sometimes but I know, the easier they come, the easier they go

I know what's in your room, and I'm not trying to hide
Cause I get what I want, by straightening out your lines
What do you know bout me, I'll crawl into your bed
And whisper in your ear, I'll get inside you head

Sleep

It's easier for you to do what you are going to do
We promise if you're quiet we won't do those things to you
So take a hit for me and then play it all back again
(You're in the shadows and you don't know what to do with them)
